

More than 6 years of international experience in business analysis, IT and modernization.

As a Global Business Analyst at Kardex I developed and implemented the data processing pipeline, as well as the abstraction layer needed to cross reference all relevant data objects, coming from systems such as SAP S4, SAP ECC, SAP B1, Salesforce and IBM Cognos.

I automated processes for the preparation of offers to customers and also internal information management.

I designed and am the main responsible of the reporting wallet used globally to find business opportunities and to benchmark the more than 25 countries where the company works (America, Europe and Asia), something that did not exist previously in a standardized way.
